

MILESTONES

By Vincent K. Washington

June 2, 2011

Every life has milestones
Points in time that carry weight
A milestone used for education
Is the day we graduate

High school graduation is a milestone
That's an honor to achieve
For it requires dedication
And in oneself, one must believe

A lot can happen in a lifetime
Between kindergarten and 12th grade
So take time for some reflection
At the progress you have made

The discipline and effort
You've shown throughout the years
Should be enjoyed and savored
And celebrated with big cheers

Remember graduation day
Along with all the things you've learned
And take pride in your achievement
And the diploma you have earned

For with every milestone that you reach
There's another one in store
And the challenge that it takes for each
Should be what you're looking for

The way one deals with every challenge
Is how a person grows
As education's more than passing tests
Or how much a person knows

But most important you must keep in mind
That in this life you're not alone
God's been with you every moment
While you've studied, learned and grown

Put God first and He will lead you
Through each milestone and beyond
His blessings will sustain you
You can have no stronger bond

So be thankful for His many gifts
And love God with your whole heart
And while today's a big accomplishment
With God, it's just the start